54th Engineer Battalion assumes authority in Iraq

Story by Cpt. Dax Pummill
54th EN BN HSC Commander

On June 19, 2008, the 54th Engineer Battalion assumed responsibility on Camp Striker, Iraq from the 479th Engineer Battalion. The 479th Engineer Battalion, under the leadership of Major Jason Wallace and Command Sergeant Major John Dobranski, is based out of Watertown, New York and provided full spectrum of engi-

Yellow Ribbon Room re-opens to resounding applause

The Yellow Ribbon Room, a place where Family Readiness Groups (FRG) held meetings and units held functions, was re-opened Wednesday after a short—and much needed—kitchen renovation.

Debbie Milhorn, a military spouse and active FRG member, noted that the kitchen “had an awesome facelift.”

Ginger Chun agreed saying, “It’s beautiful!”

The renovation was started and executed by Army Community Services (ACS). According to Al Bonilla, the Mobilization and Deployment Manager, a work order was put in, and about a year later “it came to life” with just one month needed to remodel it.

Lt. Col. Gary Rosenberg cuts the grand re-opening ribbon that held the anxious crowd at bay.

Due to IACS complications, Gate 1 will not open before July 31.

Gate 1 turnstile is now open for pedestrian exit only.

Joint Task Force - East now open for business

Story and photo by Sgt. Aimee Millham
JTF-E Public Affairs
With contributions from 541st Sapper Co.

MK AIRFIELD ADMINISTRATION CENTER, Romania -- A June 30 ceremony marked the official beginning of Joint Task Force -- East's second annual rotation.

Building on last year's training, this rotation will offer soldiers an opportunity to train in a joint and combined environment.

"Let us strive to build on the success of the previous events and forge a path forward that enhances a future cooperation and security between our great countries," said Lt. Col. Michael Borg, commander of Task Force Vampire, the name of the American contingent training here.

JTF-East's main mission to have U.S. rotational units train with and build enhanced relationships with Romanian and Bulgarian units. There are approximately 900 U.S. service members and civilian personnel here.

USAG Bamberg is contributing to these efforts through the manpower of the 541st Sapper Company. 541st Soldiers are playing an integral part of this training and relations building mission.

Upon their arrival at MK Airbase in Eastern Romania, the 541st Sapper Company began its participation in Joint Task Force East's mission to assist in the training of the Romanian Army.

In addition to training the Romanians, the Outlaws have been given unique opportunities to explore the country and interact with their Romanian counterparts outside of work.

From visiting Bucharest and the Black Sea to competing against the Romanians in friendly soccer matches, the Outlaws are being immersed in this new culture. This deployment has given the young company practice in the increasingly relevant task of promoting interoperability among NATO nations.

Besides improving combat skills, the training also allows countries that fight together in Iraq and Afghanistan to train together.

"The military area we fight in is so small and the probability to meet again in a real combat situation is very high," said Lt. Col. Florin Stan, 21st Mountain Battalion commander.

The training will also test command and control capabilities for future brigade-sized deployments.

neer support in response to contingency missions. After serving in Iraq for 9 months, the 479th Engineers officially cased their colors as the 54th Engineer Battalion uncased theirs and assumed their new mission.

The 54th Engineer Battalion arrived in Iraq between June 6 and 7. Upon arrival to Camp Striker, they began a 10-day Relief In Place (RIP) Process. The 54th EN BN Soldiers shadowed the 479th Soldiers for the initial five days learning their new roles and responsibilities. For the final five days the 479th Soldiers continued to mentor and coach while the 54th Soldiers took on the preponderance of the mission load across the battle space ensuring the 54th EN BN Soldiers were fully prepared to assume the mission on June 19.

The Transfer of Authority Ceremony was conducted with representatives from the 18th Engineer Brigade, the 20th Engineer Brigade, 10th Mountain Division and the Reserve Component showing their support for both the incoming and outgoing engineer battalions. The speakers at the ceremony included Col. Peter Deluca, 20th Engineer Brigade Commander, Lieutenant Colonel Lestochi and Wallace.

Lestochi and Omundson will lead the 54th Engineer Battalion in Iraq for the next 15 months conducting missions such as route clearance, vertical and horizontal construction, and partnership with Iraqi Army units.

Sidewalk upgrades

Uwe Wohlfeil sets the stones beside the curb of the renovated sidewalk near the Community Bank parking lot. In addition to the areas pulled up to repair the existing sidewalk the driveway into the adjoining parking lot is also being worked on. These improvements are all in support of the garrison for the Warrior Transition Unit upgrades.

As seen in the NEWS..

News summaries from 7–10 July 2008

About 3,000 visitors at “Canalissimo”

Approx. 3,000 visitors celebrated the sea fest at the old canal with artists and musicians. This fest was Bamberg's highlight for three days. The fest took place for the third time. The past two years it rained but this year the weather was good until Sunday afternoon when rain and heavy wind destroyed two tents of the arts— and crafts market.

Many small steps for big help

The children of the kindergarten “Don Bosco” in Stegaaurach walked many rounds and collected 2,167 Euros for projects in India. The rounds consisted of 200 meters; every child walked as many as it could walk within an half hour. For every round relatives, families and friends promised to make a donation.

High pressure at Siemens Company

Siemens' economic board in Munich is discussing and negotiating how many admin jobs will be abolished. The Mayors of Erlangen and Forchheim stay calm.

Yesterday, the Siemens works council could not be reached. Most of them went to Munich to negotiate with the economic board of the company regarding 6,450 jobs, which should be abolished within Germany.

The order books are full, the profit is higher than never before and the company is looking for almost 3,000 qualified employees.

Siemens statistic for our region:

Erlangen (main station) has 21, 593 employees
Forchheim (health care) 1,590 and in Bamberg 272 employees.
Nuernberg/Fuerth (second largest station within Franconia), 8, 745 and 2,486 employees in Fuerth. The total number within the Franconia Region is 35,539 employees.

Pilots on strike: already 138 flights had to be cancelled in Bavaria

The one-day long strike of the airports Munich and Nuremberg caused the cancellation of 138 flights on Monday. Lufthansa Spokesperson, Bettina Rittberger said:” In Munich all 123 flights of the Subsidiary of Lufthansa “City Line” were cancelled. In Nuremberg it has been 15 flights of “City line” and “Eurowings.” People coming to the airports were re-directed to other airplanes or were sent to take the train.

Missing person from Hallstadt dead

The 22-year old young man from Hallstadt, who had been missing since Sunday evening, was found dead on Wednesday afternoon. Police divers found the dead body in a man-made lake in the area of Oberhaid. The search was conducted with helicopters and police dogs.

793rd MP Battalion earns combat patches

*In a short, but meaningful ceremony, members of the 793rd MP Battalion earned their combat patches. Command Sgt. Maj. Eric Hodges read the history of the combat patch ceremony and the 18th MP Brigade history. The 18th MP Brigade combat patch is considered prestigious by many who have earned it.
